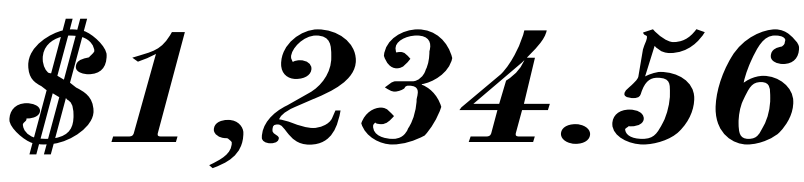
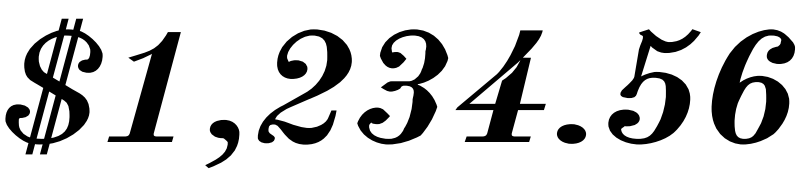
Bold Italic dollar — narrower waist and continuous terminal entrances

Drawing proposal: straight bars and established spacing retained; other styles unchanged.

Before	Proposed





Waist: approximately 218 → 173 units across its diagonal (about 20% lighter).

Both terminal entrances lose their short backward neck curves; the balls are made more compact.

Bars retain their 15° slope, 86-unit width and 95-unit gap. Advance remains 1290.

This is a new drawing proposal; the previous trademark/roman join proposal was accepted separately.
